Swimming Meet Success

Large Turnout for Menlo Circus Club Swim Last Sunday

An enthusiastic crowd gathered at the Menlo Circus Club pool last Sunday and saw Phil Clayburgh beat a field of exceptionally fast swimmers in the feature event of the afternoon. It is needless to say that a with a little more experience Phil will make the best of the step.

The first event was won by Joanie Willits with Bubbles Smith a close second. These little mermaids would make a trout blush for shame when it comes to swimming.

The second event was won by Frank Cooper in the fast time of 7 seconds flat. Tom Sullivan was a close second and Warren Speiker third.

Third even was won by Amy Boles with the Roth sister close on her heels, Lurline taking second and Bernie third. Patsy Smith lost her sense of direction and swam the tank diagonally.

Norma Holmes of the Western Women's Club let the crowd in on a few fine points of the Australian Crawl in a 50-yard exhibition.

Laurence Sweeney, former out door low board champion gave an exhibition of fancy diving.

The fifth event was won by Phil Clayburgh with Bobby Moore second and Frank Cooper third.

Sixth event won by Mary Boles, Joanie Salz, second; Nan Tucker, third.

Bill Roth and Stanley Shaller staged a lively brush in the seventh, Billie winning by a very small margin.

Ethel Salz and Doris Clayburgh raced a dead heat that was a dead heat and very exciting. After resting for a short period they repeated the performance and Doris got the berak.

Frank Goltswait won in the race for big boys with Bob Henton and Alec Wilson second third respectively.

In the race between Bob Harris, Bill Thorning and Jimmy Howell, Bob won handily, William and James finished in a dead heat for second, however Bill beat Jimmy in the next try.

In the Tower Division Plunges, Mary Boles won with Nan Taylor second and Joan Salz third.

Upper Division Plunges, Bob Harris won, with Bob Morse second and Doris Clayburgh third. The distance was thirty-five and one-half feet.

The consolation race for youngsters was won by Walter Sullivan, Haary Boles second and Stan Smith third.

An exhibition by Virginia Keane closed the program which was handled by Bert Rumsey, who started all events precisely.

Judge Elmer Jennings was timer and Everett Bliss referee.

The event was one of the most successful ever staged on the Peninsula and among those present were people from San Francisco to San Jose. The committee in charge of the affair are to be congratulated for their good work and it is hoped that many more of these swimming races will be staged in the future.

crowd which gathers at these events will be even larger this year. Representatives from all of the Palors of the Native Sons and Native Daughters from this section of the state will be on hand for the "Big Time."

Mrs. Frank Gromm of Fresno motored up to Menlo Park last week to visit with her cousin, Mrs. Ragan. She is leaving Tuesday for Chicago, upon her return she will make Menlo Park her home. Mr. Gromm contemplates building a first class apartment house of Spanish design which will be an asset to Menlo Park.

Jury Gives Boy $11,000 From Mrs. O'Keefe

Milton Milbourn, small son of Jess Milbourn, Menlo Park, was awarded $11,000 damages, and the father $900 damages against Mrs. Nellie O'Keefe by a jury in Superior Judge Buck's court at Redwood City this week. Mrs. O'Keefe is the wife of James T. O'Keefe, prominent pioneer attorney of Menlo Park and the peninsula.

Suit was brought against Mrs. O'Keefe by Milbourn as the result of an automobile accident on the Middlefield road a few feet outside the Redwood City limits January 29. Milbourn charged his son was standing near the paved portion of the road when Mrs. O'Keefe ran him down.

Permanent injuries to his son's skull and his right leg were alleged by Milbourn. The jury further ordered Mrs. O'Keefe to pay costs and disbursements. Bronson, Bronson & Slavin were attorneys for Milbourn.

The jury took more than an hour to reach its verdict after the trial had lasted all day. Eight women were members of the jury.

Sequoia Grnd Stand Destroyed

The grandstand of the baseball park at the Sequoia high school was destroyed by fire, which broke out shortly after 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. The flames had made great way before they were discovered and when the fire department arrived in response to an alarm from Box 523 nothing could be done to save the wooden structure, which was soon a mass of blackened ruins. The men working under the direction of Second Assistant Chief Al Russell however, did splendid work in keeping the fire confined to the burning grandstand and preventing it from spreading to the machine shop, a frame building.

How the fire started is a mystery, but it is believed by Chief of Police C. L. Collins, who conducted a rigid investigation, that careless smokers were to blame.

The blaze at the high school followed one earlier in the morning at the Redwood City airport, where a partly dismantled plane, belonging to Leland Offield of Burlingame, was destroyed by a mystery fire. Two other planes alongside the buried one were saved by men at the airport. The blaze was laid by Chief Collins to incendiaryism.

The high school grandstand was erected a year ago and only a few weeks ago was covered at a cost of $500. The total loss will not exceed $1000, which is covered by insurance.

NEW NUMBERS APPEAR ON MANY HOUSES HERE

Quite a number of local residents are placing new numbers on their houses in this city, although the maps have not been approved as yet by the City Council.

Inquiry at the Menlo Hardware Store indicate that when the map has been approved and a deputy appointed to handle the matter they will be in a position to supply the new numbers, but as yet they have not pushed the sale of these numbers and do not know with any certainty just what any particular house number will be.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Harris of the Recorder, and Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Bradley were guests of the management of the New Fox Theater, at the performance given last Tuesday evening. The Theater is California's finest, and nothing has been overlooked that will make for the comfort of the patrons of the show house. It will be an evening well spent for those who take the time to attend.

Shellfish of Connty Coast Put Under Ban

Mussels and clams gathered along the shores of San Mateo county should not be eaten, said a warning issued Thursday by Dr. F. Holmes Smith, county health officer following the deaths of four persons in San Francisco, from eating shellfish gathered in Marin and Sonoma counties.

A quarantine is being placed on the shell fish from Monterey county to the Oregon line by the State Board of Health and the warning against eating San Mateo county mussels "can not be made too strong," said Dr. Smith.

MENLO PARK MAN LAID TO FINAL REST THURSDAY

Last rites for Daniel Patrick O'Neill, Menlo Park pioneer, were held Thursday with a requiem mass at the Church of the Nativity, Menlo Park. Death occurred Tuesday at the Community hospital, Beresford, following a brief illness. The deceased was the brother of John J. and Edward L. O'Neill, both of Menlo Park.

Hinman Named On Bay Booster Body

Under authority vested in them at the mass meeting of representatives of some thirty chambers of commerce held in San Francisco July 24th, President Almer M. Newhall and E. B. Field of San Francisco and the Oakland Chambers of Commerce, respectively, Monday named a committee of seven including themselves, to work out ways and means of uniting the forces about the bay for the greater development of the area as a whole.

The committee is as follows: Almer M. Newhall, San Francisco; E. B. Field, Oakland; E. B. Hinman, Redwood City; E. N. Richmond, San Jose; George P. Keller, Martinez; T. J. O'Hara, Vallejo, and H. D. Ridgeway, San Rafael.

The committee will be called together at an early date, it was stated Monday. At that time a tentative program of cooperation will be worked out and following a survey of the situation the committee of seven will report back to the general committee.

As was stated by numerous speakers at the July 24th meeting, its though that unification of purpose and effort will bring about a more intensive and greater industrial, commercial and social development of the various communities of the nine counties in the bay area and the district as a whole.

Final Woodland Concert Sunday

The final concert of the fourth season of open air concerts presented by the Philharmonic Society of San Mateo county on Sunday afternoon during the summer will be given next Sunday afternoon, with the eminent European conductor, Bruno Walter, at the helm.

If the experience of previous seasons is any criterion, the capacity of the little outdoor theatre will be taxed to the utmost by the throngs of music lovers who will be anxious to take advantage of the final opportunity this summer to hear a symphonic program in the ideal setting which the Woodland Theatre at Hillsborough affords.

In all of the music capitals of Europe where great festivals are given, Bruno Walter is constantly in demand to conduct special programs, particularly those made up of the works of Mozart, Schubert and Wagner. For some fourteen years Walter has been general artistic director of the Mozart Festival annually given in Salzburg, and last year, when Max Reinhardt—Europe's most famous producer and stage director—was asked to name the musical director for the Festival given in Paris, he named Walter as the one preeminently fitted for this tremendous task.

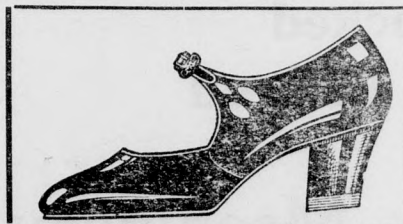

The wide diversity of the numbers included in Walter's first two programs has eloquently demonstrated his equal facility in interpreting the works of the old masters, which we are pleased to term "the classics," and also the additions to our musical literature contributed by the modern composers, but the frequently expressed preference of the Woodland Theatre patrons has been for the familiar numbers from the standard repertoire, and the final program arranged will meet perfectly these demands.

Mozart's Symphony in E flat major, which is only occasionally heard, will be the principal offering of the afternoon, but the entire program is of unusual interest and follows herewith: Wagner Overture to "Flying Dutchman"; Mozart, Symphony, E flat major. Schubert, Overture to "Rosamunde"; Wagner, Prelude and Love Death from Tristan and Isolde; Tschalkowsky, "Francesca da Rimini."

This is the telephone's job and goal

THE United States is developing a new civilization. The telephone is an indispensable element in it. The Bell System is building ahead of the growth of this civilization. In 1929 the telephone budget for land and buildings is 54 million dollars, with new buildings rising in 200 cities. New equipment for central offices will cost 142 millions; exchange lines 120 millions; toll lines 119 millions.

The Bell System's total expenditure for plant and service improvements this year will be 559 million dollars.

This outlay is required because the telephone is a universal servant of this democracy. Business uses it to create more prosperity. Homes use it for comfort and protection, for keeping friendships alive and enriching life. Its general use enables each person to extend itself without regard to distance.

The telephone ideal is that anyone, anywhere, shall be able to talk quickly and at reasonable cost with anyone, anywhere else. There is no standing still in the Bell System.

Let Every Member Vote

The San Francisco Chamber of Commerce is now conducting a referendum vote to determine whether that body shall remain neutral or intervene in the matter of the application of the Great Northern and Western Pacific railroads to the interstate commerce commission for permission to extend and join their roads between Klamath Falls, Oregon and Paxton, or Keddie in California. The San Francisco supervisors and leading organizations of the Peninsula and the entire state have gone strongly on record as favoring the entrance of the Great Northern railroad into California.

There is little doubt that the majority of the members of the San Francisco chamber will realize the value of another great continental road serving the city and stimulating its industrial development. The great danger in the present referendum, however, is the possibility of a light vote.

The ballots with their accompanying arguments and instructions seem rather complicated, and the easiest way apparently would be to forget the matter and let it slide by.

The ballots are very simple, however, and because so many members of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce reside here on the Peninsula, the Daily Times desires to call the matter to their attention and urge every member to vote on this important question. California either needs another great railroad to serve San Francisco and the northern part of the state, or it does not need such a road. It is ridiculous to talk of neutrality in a matter of such vital concern.

The polls close in the referendum on August 14. Let us hope that every member of the San Francisco chamber who resides on the Peninsula will cast his vote in favor of growth, progress and prosperity before that time. —San Mateo Times.

The Lighting Resolution

We have been asked a number of times what has become of the Resolution passed by the City Council in regard to withdrawing from the lighting district and running the lighting system of the city ourselves.

We do not know what has become of the resolution. The City Attorney was directed by a vote of four to one to present the resolution to the board of supervisors, and further than that we cannot answer the question.

The council may have changed its mind and the only way to find out about the matter is to attend the meeting next Tuesday evening and ask the Council.

WIFE CLAIMS THAT HER HUSBAND LOST FORTUNE

Alleging her husband "squandered" her personal savings of $4,000 she had advanced to him, and has refused to make any accounting to her, Mrs. Annie L. Ainsworth of Redwood City Tuesday filed suit in superior court for divorce from James Pattison Ainsworth, Belmont service station owner.

Ainsworth is further charged with using liquor to excess, remaining away from home and calling his wife insulting and vulgar names. There are no children. They were married in Redwood in June, 1926. She asks the court to award her the community property consisting of a $5,000 oil station, two automobiles, and bank account at San Carlos. Assistant District Attorney Edmund Scott is her attorney.

FRUIT FOR ALL MEALS

THE only mistake anyone ever seems to have made by including fruit in her diet was when Eve ate the original apple. But since that time the slogan "an apple a day keeps the doctor away" has become fixed in our national consciousness, and the consumption of some sort of fruit at every meal has become almost a national custom.

The reasons for this can be found in the following paragraphs from "Food, Nutrition and Health" by E. V. McCollum, Ph.D., Sc.D., and Nina Simmonds, Sc.D. (Hygiene). Dr. McCollum is Professor and Dr. Simmonds was formerly Associate Professor of Chemical Hygiene, School of Hygiene and Public Health, Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Md. They say in their book:

"In the whole range of vegetable foods the fruits are the most attractive in appearance and flavor. No others furnish such a great variety of flavors. The fruits are among the most valuable of foods for a number of reasons. Most fruits are rich in the vitamin C, which is not widely distributed among other natural foods, except tomatoes and some of the succulent vegetables, and fresh, uncooked leaves.

Among Most Valuable Foods

"The citrus fruits—oranges, lemons and grapefruit—stand first in their content of vitamin C. Apples, plums, cherries, etc., contain much less of it. The tomato ripened in the field is rich in vitamin C. Those picked green and ripened by time contain very little. Green fruits in many cases contain substances which are disturbing to the digestive tract. It is well known that unripe apples and other unripe fruits are unsafe to eat. Ripe fruit is rich in water and relatively poor in nutrient principles. A large volume of fruit, therefore, is necessary to furnish as much energy or protein as would be furnished by a very small package of some of the more concentrated products, such as cereals, peas, beans, etc. Notwithstanding the fact that they are water-rich foods, poor in all the prominent nutrient substances—proteins, fats and carbohydrates—they are nevertheless very valuable components of the dietary, and should be regularly used. Fruits are especially useful in promoting intestinal elimination and so help to promote intestinal hygiene."

All Fruits Now Available

Of course all fresh fruits are now annually available in the localities where they grow, but the canning of fresh fruits picked at the very moment of their prime ripeness has proved a great boon to the health of the nation. No one need now go without fruit in the diet since these canned fruits are available everywhere at every season of the year.

The list of fruits so available includes apples (whole and sliced, apple sauce, apple butter and baked apples), apricots (whole and halves), blackberries, blueberries, cherries (white, red and black), crabapples, cranberries, currants, figs, fruits for salad, gooseberries, grapes, grapefruit, loganberries, peaches (whole, halves, sliced and crushed), pears (whole and halves), pineapples (sliced, crushed and tidbits), plums, prunes (dry and in syrup), quinces, raisins, raspberries (black and red), rhubarb and strawberries. All of the highly colored fruits are put up in the sanitary enamel lined cans which have become so popular with the housewife. If the supply of any of these lags or the price goes up, owing to some untoward circumstance like the heavy frost this spring in California which cut down this year's crop of peaches, another fruit can be readily substituted. For instance, Italian prunes form a highly acceptable substitute for peaches, and their juice blends wonderfully in fruit cocktails.

Some Recipes for Summer

Here are a dessert and a salad which will suggest how to use fruit in at least two of your three main meals. The first is known as Fresh Prune Soufflé: Beat four egg whites stiff and fold in four tablespoons sugar. Drain the contents of a No. 3 can of fresh prunes, remove stones and cut the pulp fine. Fold pulp into the egg whites (reserving the syrup for beverages and sauces), add one-half teaspoon almond extract, pour into a buttered baking dish, and bake in a moderate oven—350°—for twenty minutes, until firm and a delicate brown. Serve at once with a yellow custard sauce poured over. This recipe serves eight.

The second combines fresh ripe tomatoes with canned pears, and is known as Pear and Tomato Salad: Slice chilled tomatoes and lay one slice in each of eight individual nests of lettuce. Place half of a pear from a No. 2 can on top of each, cut side up. Mix one cream cheese with three tablespoons chili sauce and pile in the pear cavities. Garnish with strips of canned pimiento and serve with either mayonnaise or French dressing.

The City of Menlo Park cannot feel proud of the attitude, taken by two of the City's Trustees at the Public Meeting held July 30th. The Mayor had invited Col. Skaggs, Engineer of the Highway Commission to enlighten us on the Highway situation, after the Colonel had discoursed at length and given valuable information (which apparently passed over the heads of these Trustees). One of them arose and waving his hands in the air wanted to know if he could get a permit to install an automatic stop signal. Col. Skaggs informed him that such a signal had been proven worthless, and that no permit would be issued for it, the other Trustee then asked if he could install a hand operated signal, he was informed that he could, provided a uniformed policeman would be stationed to operate it, what would be the use of a signal of the officer were not there?

Some time since all we could hear from one of the Trustees was, "Not a dollar in the Treasury", from his inordinate desire to blow in the City's money on useless nic-nacs, it would seem that he wished to keep his boast good on "Not a dollar in the Treasury."

An automatic signal cost $1600 and is useless. Col. Skaggs suggested that we build storm water drains. Why not use this $1600 for that purpose, try it on Roble avenue, and get rid of that LAKE. What is needed is a STORM SEWER, not a signal. Where ever the signal is placed, it will be in the wrong place, because the Highway has to be widened. The $14000 a year Council has advice from one of the best Engineers in the state, invited here by THEM, why not act on it? and GET A STORM SEWER FOR MENLO PARK.

A WONDERFUL STORY FAITHFULLY IS TOLD

"The Bridge of San Luis Rey," heralded filmization of Thornton Wilder's celebrated novel, is the attraction coming Saturday, August 10 to the G. & S. Theatre, Los Altos, as one of the most important theatrical events of the season.

Plans to film the Pulitzer prize-winning novel, a literary sensation, started widespread debate, because of the strangeness of the story and the difficulties of putting it on the screen. But under the direction of Charles Brabin this was not only done, but with almost utter fidelity to the original book.

Majestic settings, great cathedrals, picturesque wilds and strange, uncanny lighting and photographic effects; the thrilling spectacle of the wrecking of a great bridge over an Andean gorge, and vivid, intimate details that literally bare the lives of its characters are all woven into the central theme, a story of love.

The cast is a remarkable one, as famous artists fill every principal role. Lily Damita plays the fiery dancer and Ernest Torrence is seen as Uncle Pio. Don Alvarado, Raquel Torres, Henry B. Walthall, Tully Marshall, Emily Fitzroy, Duncan Rinaldo and many others are in the cast.

Hundreds of people appear in cathedral and bridge scenes, adding to the general effectiveness of the gripping drama of old Peru.
